

Ambulance Chaser

Search The City

You said, Just look on the bright side
But the bright side looks black and white
Just one more time, can we scale this fence
And scream at the city lights?

If we're playing for keeps you already beat meNow, I've come undone
Just so you could stitch me up

This damage seems to suit you
If I'm going down then you're going downNow, I've come undone
Just so you could stitch me up

This damage seems to suit you

If you're going down then I'll go down with youAnd there's red wine by poolside

We'll toast to the bitter end and the best mistake of our lives

They've got a name for you where I come from

You keep making a mess and turning heads

And the worst part is you know itNow, I've come undone

Just so you could stitch me up

This damage seems to suit you

If I'm going down then you're going downNow, I've come undone

Just so you could stitch me up

This damage seems to suit you

If you're going down then I'll go downThe haunting, the kind that I never saw coming
Are you haunting me?

You're the ghost that's digging my grave

I've got a gut feeling, can anybody hear me?

Got a gut feeling that you will be the death of me

If I go down then you're going down, babyIt's not what you said

It's just the way you said it

It's not what you said

But I can't forget thisNow, I've come undone

Just so you could stitch me up

This damage seems to suit you

If I'm going down then you're going downNow, I've come undone
Just so you could stitch me up

This damage seems to suit you

If you're going down then I'll go downNow, I've come undone

Just so you could stitch me up

This damage seems to suit you

If you're going down then I'll go down with you
