Prodigal

Gungor

We say goodbye, I turn my back Run away, run away, so predictable Not far from here, you see me crack Like a bone, like a bone, I'm so breakable I'll take everything from you But you'll take anything, won't you? Run away, run away like a prodigal Don't you wait for me, don't you wait for me So ashamed, so ashamed but I need you so And you wait for me, and you wait for me I'm on the road to who knows where Look ahead, not behind I keep saying There's no place to go where you're not there On your rope I hold tight but it's freeing I'll take everything from you But you'll take anything, won't you? Run away, run away like a prodigal Don't you wait for me, don't you wait for me So ashamed, so ashamed but I need you so And you wait for me, and you wait for me Everybody wants to be right But only if it's not a day light I keep trying to find my way back My way back Run away, run away like a prodigal Don't you wait for me, don't you wait for me So ashamed, so ashamed but I need you so And you wait for me, and you wait for me Runaway, runaway, runaway From you, from you, from you
