

The Place You Love

Have Mercy

You called me late from a friend's phone
And you were looking for a friend
I told you
I'd take you to the place you love Had your back faced towards the water
You were looking for a dance
I was too gone,
Could've caught her,
I could have gave her the chance Soaking wet
And I bet
This is the best night you've had in awhile
Where we met
And I'll let you call me "darling"
But you don't mean it yet I was looking
You had dead eyes
I could see everything
You forgot the one rule
Where we went to,
I could tell you everything I pulled you out from the water
You just laughed in my arms
And you told me
How you never wanted to keep us apart So why'd you do it?
Why are you selfish?
Why can't I trust you anymore?
Where's the "sorry"?
No pity party
When you come and knock on my door Soaking wet
And I bet this is the best night
You've had in awhile.
Where we met
And I'll let you call me "darling"
But you don't mean it yet I was looking
And you had dead eyes
I could see everything
You forgot the one rule
Where we went to,
I could tell you everything If you ever forget where,
If you ever forget where
I will take you there You called me late from a friend's phone
And you were looking for a friend

I told you
I'd take you to the place you love
Had your back faced towards the water
You were looking for a dance
I was too gone,
Could've caught her,
I could have given her the chance
I could have given her the chance
The chance I was looking
You had dead eyes
I could see everything
You forgot the one rule
Where we went to,
I could tell you everything
And if you ever forget where,
And if you ever forget where
I will take you there
