

The Challenge of Caring

From a Second Story Window

Open the gates let all the wounded in leave the rest to rot fear the sky
amazing how it happened, the blood poured down like rain fear this sky, fear our sky resurrect the fears that you forgot look upon with them, with such disgust hear the screams of the children show us where to hide floating towards my face, my face, my face your floating closer to my face place your faith in someone else i can feel your face
i can feel you
floating closer, floating closer to my face you are floating closer
i can feel you
laughing while were bleeding
