

.On My Own

A Bad Think

i am on my own i miss your smile i miss your touch we were so young and i need to see you more when all the people stare i dont care i wont walk away i will always be there i need you more then any one can think i will see you every day if i have to and i wont forget abou us if you would give me a chance you will find that romance you always wanted i will spoil you i love the way you smile but then you brock my heart and i am on my own and i used to think you were the best you were and you cheted and left me there so i am on my own thank you for some of your care i am done good bye yah yah so you were there i kinda wish you were wiser i wasnt the guy who would love you after you left to let you know i gave you my heart and know its brocken it was glued with tears and some of you have no clue waht love is if i sayed i was sorry i would think about it after a while and think about all the pain i went through just to have you i am gone yah yah good bye i am on my own see you later and i will find out that your not my tipe so yah yah good bye so i gave you my heart and you through it out i am gone good luck with yoour life sure i will miss you yah yah good bye

Lyrics submitted by Angie.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlrics.com/>