Dear Dictator

Saint Motel

Everyone is gonna run away, today.
It's not cause what you do or what you say,
It's just time to get leaving now.Nobody has ever seen his face, but fear his smile.
I heard he'll drink your blood just for the taste, then laugh, and spit it out.Everybody tends to disagree, on just how evil,
A single human being should ever be, and all your bones they scream for more.And at the trial, they'll be no jury, and all the dead are going to play witness.
It's not too late, to say you're sorry, but it's too late to truly mean it.And at the trial, they'll be no jury, and all the dead are going to play witness.
It's not too late, to say you're sorry, but it's too late to truly mean it.Everybody finally ran away, today.
It's cause what I do and what I say.
It's just time to get leaving, time to get leaving, time to get leaving now.
