

I Won't Disagree

Kate Voegele

Ignorance is bliss, you'd always hear me say
But at times you can't deny those eyes lookin' your way
So let me begin by sayin' what I mean
It's a crime against the heart, you know
To be somewhere in between Well, don't be shy I've got an open heart and hand
And I just might have to confess just where I stand 'Coz lately you make me weaker in the knees
And you race through my veins baby, every time you're close to me
Take me away to places I ain't seen
They say you got a hold on me, yeah, and I won't disagree Rock-a-bye, my baby, don't be blue tonight, no
I'm on my way and I'm gonna make it right
'Coz I have got the feelin' you'll be needin' love
And of all the lonely hearts you're the one I'm thinkin' of Yeah, but I've been told it's gonna take an iron hand
To break the mold and stand above all the rest Well, lately you make me weaker in the knees
And you race through my veins baby, every time you're close to me
Take me away to places I ain't seen
They say you got a hold on me, yeah, and I won't disagree, yeah I'll be thinkin' of that evenin' when there's nothin' for me to do, no
And I'll be wonderin' if by some slim chance
You've been wonderin', you've been wonderin' too, oh Well, lately you make me weaker in the knees
And you race through my veins baby, every time you're close to me
Take me away to places I ain't seen
They say you got a hold on me, yeah Oh, lately you make me weaker in the knees
And you race through my veins baby, every time you're close to me
Take me away to places I ain't seen
They say you got a hold on me, yeah, and I won't disagree
