

Call of the Wave

Malibooz

(Verse 1)

Hes up before dawn,
Gently kisses her hair
He pushes his truck down the driveway,
So not to wake her while shes lying there
He fires it up, hits the lights
And drives out on into the haze
Dont try to explain

Its the call of the wave(Verse 2)

He gets to the beach
As the night clouds give way
At the first siting of the horizon
He paddles out and slides into a wave
The waters so cold on his face
But the feelings the one that he craves
Dont try to explain,

Its the call of the wave.(Bridge)

The call of the wave
Its screaming right into his soul
When the call comes it cant be denied
You hear it and it takes control(Verse 3)
She gets out of bed and she fixes her hair
(got to get ready she wishes hes here right now)
She smiles when she looks at his dresser
Sees his wax and saint christopher there
(she loves him oh, so bad)
Her mother keeps saying shes crazy
Thats no way for a man to behave
But what does she know

About the call of the waveYeah, what does she know

About the call of the waveWhat does she know

About the call of the wave(Ending vamp)

Ooh, ooh, ah, ah, she loves him oh so bad2001 John Zambetti

(p) Malibooz Music/ASCAP

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>