

Man of Constant Workload

The Bar and Grill Singers

A constant workload all through the day
I am a man of constant workload
I bill double all my day
A bid farewell to friends and family
So I could work my life away
(So he could work his life away)

For all these years, I've been a lawyer
No pleasure here on Earth I found
For I'm bound to practice law forever
I have no friends or hobbies now
(He has no friends or hobbies now)

You can hire me for some big lawsuit
For many years I'll litigate
Then you will go and hire another
Just 'cause I raised my hourly rate
(Just 'cause he raised his hourly rate)

Maybe clients think I'm just a lawyer
A litigator evermore
But there is retirement in my future
If I ain't dead and gone before
(If he ain't dead and gone before)

Lyrics Submitted by Gregory Acedo

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>