

Changes

All Faces Down

the time will come, when facts will shake us awake then we can pray that it's not too late for a chance, for us, to change ourselves it's a test for our race against nature, against nature against the earth we were rebelling too long we shouldn't play god, for that we're too dumb we're capitalizing on the world

if time can heal the pain, the world prevails today its true that life survives but I wonder if the same will apply to human kind
if time can heal the pain, the world prevails today
its true that life survives
but I wonder if the same will apply to human kind you should ask yourself why we should get one more chance have we deserved a chance to change if you consider this spot as a part of you life then it let's you survive that's the reason, that's the reason that's the reason why we will survive those who notice, those who notice that the earth is our friend, will stay alive

but I wonder if the same will apply to human kind
if time can heal the pain, the world prevails today
its true that life survives
but I wonder if the same will apply to human kind

a golden age, will come you cannot stop what has already begun
a golden age, will come

its true that life survives
but I wonder if the same will apply to human kind

if time can heal the pain, the world prevails today
its true that life survives
but I wonder if the same will apply to human kind
