Invisible Chains

Pretty Maids

Something about her
I can't figure out But there's something that doesn't seems right something behind that peculiar smile emotionally crippled insideThe invisible chains that eternally binds you the strength of your pain will remain to remind you Once you get burned you get marked for the rest of your lifeShe's living in shame she's distressed from the stains suffer the scars of her youth if only she could renounce to her childhood and run away from the truthBut nobody take a notice and nobody ever did[Chorus]Hurt and absent And a life in contempt never no question was asked now there ain't no hide out she can't conceal herself facing the ghost of the pastIt's a no one situation and nobody wants to know[Chorus]She believed in love And now she lives in the non - existence Like a wounded bird She's trying to get of
To spread her wings and fly Fly away[Chorus]
