Feel the Light

Nick Fuse

Today, today you wanna run away now
You break, try to keep it together
Love, love is all you need
You're a queen, but you've never known it
'Cause life has come and left you blinded
Stole your smile and left you cryin'
It's not your fault, but shame is all you got now
Your heart is tangled up in silence
It's time to let go and feel the light
You'll find you're not alone
I know it's easier to hide but you gotta let go
And feel the light, let go and feel the light
Be brave, brave, the waters all around you
I'll stay, I'll keep you from sinking down
Love, love is on your side
You're stronger than you'll ever know
So many years of quiet
Building up like a fire inside
You're feelin' like you gotta let it out now
Just let it out
Your heart is tangled up in silence
It's time to let go and feel the light
You'll find you're not alone
I know it's easier to hide but you gotta let go
And feel the light, let go and feel the light
How did you get here?
You're locked inside of all this fear
Inside you're crying out, your mind's at war
Get out, get out and live for more
There's so much more, live for more
Your heart is tangled up in silence
It's time to let go and feel the light
You'll find you're not alone
I know it's easier to hide but you gotta let go
And feel the light, let go and feel the light
Brave, brave waters all around you
I'll stay, I'll keep you from sinking down
