Mom

Highly Suspect

Hey momma
It's me, your oldest son
Not the one who still believes
That one day you won't be on the runAnd I, I won't take up too much time from you
I just wanted to tell you I'm alive and doing fine
So how are you?Hey momma
It's me, your oldest son
You kissed me on the head
And left me out for dead
When I was only oneWell I won't take up too much time
I just wanted to tell you I'm alive and doing fine
I'm not looking for your money
Or even a hugI've never known your love
I've never known your love
And I don't want your loveI don't need your love
'Cause I'm doing fine here
The best that I can
I stand on my own
I stand alone
And I stand like a man
And maybe you just
You just didn't care
But that's okay
There's always tomorrow
Or some other day
YeahI've never known your love
And I don't want your love
And I don't need your love
I don't want your
Love
