

Mom

Highly Suspect

Hey momma

It's me, your oldest son

Not the one who still believes

That one day you won't be on the runAnd I, I won't take up too much time from you

I just wanted to tell you I'm alive and doing fine

So how are you?Hey momma

It's me, your oldest son

You kissed me on the head

And left me out for dead

When I was only oneWell I won't take up too much time

I just wanted to tell you I'm alive and doing fine

I'm not looking for your money

Or even a hugI've never known your love

I've never known your love

And I don't want your loveI don't need your love

'Cause I'm doing fine here

The best that I can

I stand on my own

I stand alone

And I stand like a man

And maybe you just

You just didn't care

But that's okay

There's always tomorrow

Or some other day

YeahI've never known your love

And I don't want your love

And I don't need your love

I don't want your

Love
