

She Really Loved You

Four Year Strong

Wasted so much time wishing and wondering
What could I do to recapture my past?
'Cause all my memories seem so much better
Than anything that I'm, that I'm feeling today
Now it's fading away, I'm losing hold
To the only piece of you that I have left
Why is it easy to forget
When nothing could ever take that place you left behind?
Every night I lie awake worried that each day
I am forgetting a little bit more, I need to remember you that way
When I was not afraid, not afraid to forget
Now it's fading away, I'm losing hold
To the only piece of you that I have left
Why is it easy to forget
When nothing could ever take that place you left behind?
And I'm wasting my time wishing and wondering
I'm wasting, I'm wasting my time
Wasting my time wishing and wondering
And every night I lie awake hoping my tears will dry
Will I ever shut my eyes? Will I ever shut my eyes?
Will I ever shut my?
