Russian Roulette

Joan Armatrading

I bring myself down
By making the things up
I imagine you gone, Russian roulette
Like dancing with death, I carry onI'll take the blame
I know I've got it wrong
But if you high tail
I just can't carry onThe blood in my veins runs thin when I think
Are you with somebody?
Opening doors, moonlight love
And the promise you promiseThe fear inside
Is stronger than the truth
It grows day by day
By night time I'm confusedOh, help me
You can go on, you can go on
Can't go on
You can go on, you can go onI'm a prisoner in chains
Confound these thoughts, I could kill somebody
Like a lamb, like a dove
You lay down while I shout accepting your fateI'll take the blame
I know I've got it wrong
But if you high tail
I just can't carry onOh, help me
You can go on, you can go on
Can't go on
You can go on, you can go onOh, help me
You can go on, you can go onI bring myself down
By making things up
I imagine you gone, Russian Roulette
Like dancing with death, I carry onOh, help me
You can go on, you can go on
Can't go on
You can go on, you can go on
