

Locked In A Cage

Brick + Mortar

Leaves turn blue and the sky green.
A little drop of dreams can go so far.
I know you've got the anger of a burning sun.
Say hold up just a minute, don't burn me down.
If you burn me down you'll never find your way.
If you burn me down, it's true, a little drop of dreams. Locked in a cage, for a really long time, time, time.
Locked in a cage, for a long time, time, time.
Locked in a cage, for a really long time.
Locked in a cage, for a long time, time, time.
Locked in a cage.
All this time I've been lied to.
You're always in between, I go too far.
You know I got the anger of a burning sun.
Say hold up just a minute, don't burn me now.
If you burn me down you'll never find your way.
If you burn me down, it's true, a little drop of dreams. Locked in a cage, for a really long time, time, time.
Locked in a cage, for a long time, time, time.
Locked in a cage, for a really long time.
Locked in a cage, for a long time, time, time. Locked in a cage.
Show us all what we have earned.
We'll keep our words and show the world.
A drop of dreams is all it takes.
A drop of dreams to show, to show the world, to show the world.
A drop of dreams to show the world.
So show us all what we have earned.
We'll keep our words to show.
Locked in a cage, for a really long time, time, time.
Locked in a cage, for a long time, time, time.
Locked in a cage, for a really long time.
Locked in a cage, for a long time, time, time.
Locked in a cage.
