

Disconnected (out Of Touch)

Trapt

You never listen to me, you cannot look me in the eyes
And I have struggled to see, why it's so easy to push me aside
I no longer believe that you were ever at my side
How could you know what I need when I am the last thing on your mind?
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
So disconnected, go through the motions again
So disconnected, everything goes over your head
So disconnected, you got me hanging by a thread
So disconnected, when will this cycle end?
You don't really know me, I don't think you've ever even tried
We're on the same routine and still you never have the time
Who do you want me to be? And do you want me in your life?
I feel so incomplete, you left me too far behind
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
So disconnected, go through the motions again
So disconnected, everything goes over your head
So disconnected, you got me hanging by a thread
So disconnected, when will this cycle end?
It's too hard to just move on, it's easier said than done
It's too hard to just move on, it's easier said than done
It's too hard to just move on, it's easier said than done
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
So disconnected, go through the motions again
So disconnected, everything goes over your head
So disconnected, you got me hanging by a thread
So disconnected, when will this cycle end?
So disconnected, go through the motions again
So disconnected, when will this cycle end?
So disconnected, so disconnected, when will this cycle end?
