Age Six Racer

Dashboard Confessional

So long sweet summer
I stumbled upon you and gratefully basked in your rays
So long sweet slumber
I fell into you now you're gracefully falling awayHey thanks, thanks for that summer, it's cold where you're going
I hope that your heart is always warm
I gave you the best, I gave you the best that I had
You passed on the letters and passed on the best that I hadSo, so long sweet summer
I stumbled upon you and gratefully basked in your rays
So long sweet slumber
I fell into you now you're gracefully falling awayI hate the winter in Lexington
I hate the winter in Lexington
Lexington, Lexington, Lexington
