

Sacred Mystery

Connersvine

On a highway of tomorrows
To chase the longings of my soul
But signs are guiding me to follow
Fragile dreams are on this road
But it's the only road I know Beyond every question lies
Another answer in Your eyes
Through every chapter of this story
This is my place and time Walking in to the great divine
And I will follow where You lead
Into the sacred mystery Distant memories behind me
They've vanished in Your calm
Long removed from mindless wandering
From a way that was wrong
To the place where I belong
