

Vanity And Greed

Silverstein

Don't say you miss me, yet I must concede
There's something I have to explain
It isn't easy playing your way
I can't even begin to say I'm taking back my choices
I'm gonna take us down I've seen the bravest lions shy away
I've seen the tallest tress fall down
I've made a hobby of self-deprecating
My honesty and my integrity Don't let me take us now Don't say goodnight, say goodbye
You can't mend us now
You can't fix a shattered heart
Don't even try I'll sell you every ounce of honesty
You'll buy it all and lie with me
I can't pretend there's any truth to me
It's all just vanity and greed Let me take and call you a crier
I'm gonna need it more Don't say goodnight, say goodbye
You can't mend us now
You can't fix a shattered heart
Don't even try Here's my advice if you know what's good for you
Don't let your guard down, don't let your guard down
Here's my advice if you know what's good for you
Don't let your guard down, don't let your guard down Here's my advice if you know what's good for you
Don't let your guard down, don't let your guard down
Here's my advice if you know what's good for you
Don't let your guard down, don't let your guard down now Don't let me drag you down Don't say goodnight, say goodbye
You can't mend us now
You can't fix a shattered heart
Don't even try Don't say goodnight, say goodbye
You can't mend us down
You can't fix a shattered heart
Don't even try I'm taking back my choices
I'm gonna drag us down
Let me take and call you a crier
I'm gonna need it more
