

No Hatred

Cris Cab

If someone took my eyes now
I would lose my way
I'd stumble through the darkness
To live another day
If only they could hear me
I'd have some words to say

Tell them all to go out and stop this game to play Oh, told me that I'd never be found (I'd never be found)

Oh, and I'm nervous when I come around (yeah)

Oh, and I know because I'm standing my ground (standing here)

Oh, so I told them that I'd never fall down

We don't need your hatred

We only have one life

We don't need your progress

We see a different light

We only want our voices to let the truth be known

When the world is silent our brilliance will be shown

If someone took my breath out

How could I survive

The world would grow so lonely

As I laid down to die

If only they could help me

As my last chance to right

I'd give them all the wisdom

That the dying man provide Oh, I told them not to stray away

Oh, but they all had some words to say (tell me something)

Oh, and I know because I'm standing my ground (standing here)

Oh, so I told them that I'd never fall down

We don't need your hatred

We only have one life

We don't need your progress

We see a different light

We only want our voices to let the truth be known

When the world is silent our brilliance will be shown

Say hey it will be okay

Round and round and round we go

Someday, you will see one day

That round and round and round we go

It's okay, you know that we don't play

So, round and round and round we go

Some say don't care what they say
So, round and round and round we go

We don't need your hatred

We only have one life

We don't need your progress

We see a different light

We only want our voices to let the truth be known

When the world is silent our brilliance will be shown
