

Someday

Trace Adkins

I am grounded but I have wings to fly
I just don't use them, I just look up in the sky
And keep 'em hidden, bound up in a coat and tie
Till the world is ready for a man with wings to fly

But I will fly someday
I'll break these feet of clay
Then I'll be on my way

My way

I am feeling though I do not shed a tear
And my eyes are dusty though I have faced my fear of fears

I am shaken by the coming on of the years
I am a feeling man but I cannot shed a tear

But I will cry someday
I'll break these eyes of clay
Then I'll be on my way, my way

Someday

Oh someday

I am loving though I make my bed alone
I've had lovers but I have no one of my own
But I could feed her from the garden I have grown
I am a loving man though I make my bed alone

But I will love someday
I will break this heart of clay
Then I'll be on my way, my way

Someday

On my way, someday
I'm gonna love someday
