Sorry Try Again

Yellowcard

I wanna love, I wanna leave
I want you to love me, I want you to leave me
I wanna stand where I can see
I'm watching you love me
I'm watching you leaving me nowI wish I could be somebody else
Wish I could see you in myself
Wish there was something inside me
To keep you beside me
Say what you really feel
You know I need something thats real
I wish there was something inside me
To keep you beside meI wanna know if I could be Someone to turn to that could never hurt you
But I know what you think of me
Yeah, you had a breakthrough
And now I'm just bad news for youI wish I could be somebody else
Wish I could see you in myself
Wish there was something inside me
To keep you beside me
Say what you really feel
You know I need something thats real
I wish there was something inside me
To keep you beside meI should have told you everything
I never gave you anything
I should have told you everything
If I could give you anything
Then I would tell you everythingI wish I could be somebody else
Wish I could see you in myself
Wish there was something inside me
To keep you beside me
Say what you really feel
You know I need something thats real
I wish there was something inside me
To keep you beside meI should have told you everything
I should have told you everything
I should have told you everything
