Look a Ghost

Unwound

you knew her from before she hid behind the door you never noticed that the hallways turned to black the stairway is a chance to fall and break your hands she just might push you down so never turn aroundshe never had a chance
she never had a chance
so now she's coming back for you
watch out, she's fading fast you just might lose your chance find out by accident the reason she is back so now you're scared of her cause she might not return mistook you for someone one look and now she's goneshe never had a chance
so now she's coming back for youlook a ghost came through the door from a thousand years before look a ghost came through the door from a thousand years beforelook a ghost came through the door from a thousand years beforeshe never had a chance
so now she's coming back for you (x2)
