

Truly, Truly

Grant Lee Buffalo

I was hanging with some friends
In the parking lot one night near the summer's end
I leaned back against the glass
Of a car to watch all those speeding comet's crash
It made me think about us
It made me think about us Truly, truly, truly, I want you
Truly, truly, truly, I do
Truly, truly, truly, I want you You were lying by the pool
And the surface of the water was a Lapis jewel
I dove in to make a splash
Woke you from your dream nodding off out on the grass
It made me think about us Truly, truly, truly, I want you
Truly, truly, truly, I do
Truly, truly, truly, I want you Truly, truly, truly, I want you
Truly, truly, truly, I do
Truly, truly, truly, I want you It's just been too long that
We set aside some time alone
I sure could use your point of view
And it's been awhile
We dropped our guard and cracked a smile
But don't you think it's overdue, how about you? Truly, truly, truly, I want you
Truly, truly, truly, I do
Truly, truly, truly, I want you Truly, truly, truly, I want you
Truly, truly, truly, I do
Truly, truly, truly, I want you Oh, oh, truly, oh, truly
Truly, truly, truly, I want you
Truly, truly, truly, oh, yes, it's truly
Truly, truly, truly, I want you
