Truly, Truly

Grant Lee Buffalo

I was hanging with some friends In the parking lot one night near the summer's end I leaned back against the glass Of a car to watch all those speeding comet's crash It made me think about us It made me think about usTruly, truly, truly, I want you Truly, truly, truly, I do Truly, truly, I want youYou were lying by the pool And the surface of the water was a Lapis jewel I dove in to make a splash Woke you from your dream nodding off out on the grass It made me think about usTruly, truly, truly, I want you Truly, truly, truly, I do Truly, truly, truly, I want youTruly, truly, truly, I want you Truly, truly, truly, I do Truly, truly, I want youIt's just been too long that We set aside some time alone I sure could use your point of view And it's been awhile We dropped our guard and cracked a smile But don't you think it's overdue, how about you? Truly, truly, I want you Truly, truly, truly, I do Truly, truly, truly, I want youTruly, truly, truly, I want you Truly, truly, truly, I do Truly, truly, truly, I want youOh, oh, truly, oh, truly Truly, truly, I want you Truly, truly, oh, yes, it's truly Truly, truly, I want you
