

Time for Change

Link 80

you gave it up. you pawned your brain for a pat on the back and a star by your name. and now you think you're one of them. but you cannot allow yourself to live under the doubts of someone else. the time is now. the time for change! it's time to think for yourself. the time is now. what do you need that you don't already have? what they provide to you is never gonna last. and you're gonna find out a little too late that you cannot allow yourself to live under the doubts of someone else. the time is now. the time for change! it's time to think for yourself. the time is now.
