You Are Good

Tye Tribbett

When the sun starts to rise and I open my eyes
You are good, so good
In the heat of the day with each stone that I lay
You are good, so goodWith every breath I take in
I'll tell You I am grateful again
When the moon rises high before each kiss goodnight
You are goodWhen the road starts to turn around each bend I've learned
You are good, so good
And when somebody's hand holds me up, helps me stand
You are so goodWith every breath I take in I'll tell You I'm grateful again
'Cause it's more than enough just to know I am loved
And You are goodSo how can I thank You and what can I bring?
What can a poor man lay at the feet of a King?
So I'll sing You a love song it's all that I have
To tell You I'm grateful for holding my life in Your handsWhen it's dark and it's cold and I can't feel my soul
You are still good
When the world is gone gray and the rain's here to stay
You are still goodWith every breath I take in
I'll tell You I am grateful again
And the storm may swell even then it is well
And You are goodSo how can I thank You, what can I bring?
What can a poor man lay at the feet of a King?
I'll sing You this love song, it's all that I have
To tell You I'm grateful for holding my life in Your handsSo I'll sing You a love song it's all that I have
To tell You I'm grateful for holding my life in Your hands
You are holding my life in Your hands
