I Couldn't See You Leavin'

Conway Twitty

Lying all alone in this midnight blue
With nothing but these memories of you
Staring at these walls that are closing in Wondering if you're ever coming back againNow I'm just a prisoner in this big old bed
Living with the things that I should have said
Why is it always after someone's gone
That you can see where you went wrongI couldn't see you leaving
But I can see you're gone
That note you left on my pillow
Said I was on my ownI never heard you crying
'Cause I was seldom home
I couldn't see you leaving
But I can see you're goneI just keep wondering where you are tonight
And if someone else is holding you tight
It took you walking out the door to see
That I'm really nothing when you're not with meI did a good job of fooling myself
Thinking that you love would stay on the shelf
But how could anybody be so blind
To have to wake up alone and findI couldn't see you leaving
But I can see you're gone
That note you left on my pillow
Said I was on my ownI never heard you crying
'Cause I was seldom home
I couldn't see you leaving
But I can see you're goneI couldn't see you leaving
But I can see you're gone

Songwriters
RONNY SCAIFE, RORY MICHAEL BOURKEPublished by Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/