

I Love You, Not

Home Grown

We've been dating for a week and now you're asking me if I love you
I don't know what to say, hey, why don't we hit the hay?
I'll be your love slave in the morning
We'll pretend that we're okay You're moving fast, don't get attached
I think you're hot but I love you not
When I'm with you
I don't wanna hear the words that don't mean anything to me
I don't love you
I will never say those words that don't mean anything to me We are nothing but a fling so don't expect a thing from me, girl
You're way too serious
Why don't you just build a bridge, so you get over it and me, girl?
We're friends with benefits You're moving fast, don't get attached
I think you're hot, but I love you not
I don't wanna hear the words that don't mean anything to me
I don't love you
I will never say those words that don't mean anything to me Pathetic hopeless romantic
This is why you never get it
Single is the way for me
Come play with me You're movin' fast, don't get attached
I love your bod
You're moving fast, don't get attached
I think you're hot but I love you not
When I'm with you
I don't wanna hear the words that don't mean anything to me
I don't love you
I will never say those words that don't mean anything to me When I'm with you
I don't wanna hear the words that don't mean anything to me
I don't love you
I will never say those words that don't mean anything to me
That's right
