

Someday

Spencer Day

It's a shame that my love won't console you.
Tender words keep you running away.
It's a shame that nobody ever told you,
But I hope you believe it someday.
Cuz you shine like the stars in the evening,
And you're as soft as the break of day.
It's a shame that you don't even see it,
But I hope you believe it someday.
Find a simple truth inside you,
Pure and innocent as a child.
Learn to love yourself like I do.
Let your soul begin to shine.
Cuz I can't describe your beauty.
It's runs deeper than words can convey.
I'm gonna keep on repeating I love you,
And I hope you believe it someday.
Someday, someday, someday.
Find a simple truth inside you,
Pure and innocent as a child.
Learn to love yourself like I do.
Let your soul begin to shine.
You're an angel's fallen from heaven.
I'll be your shelter when you are afraid.
I'm gonna stand beside you forever.
And I hope you believe me someday.
