

Come to Life

Jefferson Starship

Well, everything, everything has come to life again
I have no doubts but the ice got thin
What came too soon was so hard to keep
So full a harvest, it was hard to reap, noWell, there were times seemed just like the walls would crumble
Shoot from the hip and pray for trouble
Stone-cold sober and a-seeing double
How that midnight band could ramble
Taking mansions and leaving shamblesRemember other times and places
Last night's dance, the glowing faces
All the lights, the shadows in the hall
Seeking higher peaks from which to fallRemember, we were telling you
That time would stop and nations fall
Now we find the lies come true
Can you tell me, tell me, what are we to do?Because the good old days
Those good old days are all dead and gone
Good-bye and bless them all, every one
'Cause what was true has passed the testJust as well forget the rest
It's half of what you saw
Was not yours to know
Let it goEverything, everything, everything, everythingWell, everything has come to life again
Well, everything has come to life againCome to my life
Come to my life
Come to my life
...
