There Is No God

Mrs. Magician

So you're a self proclaimed messiah
Or maybe a blasphemes liar
A clever hypnotic hoax, a hallowed heretic coax
Who tells these stories so oldNo, never the same twice told
Speaking in distorted truths
I see that Thomas wants some proof
Did you come to heal the sick
With one more magician's trick?Ye generation seeks a sign
While blind keeps leading the blind
So you say, there is no God
Just a clever man's charade
A once upon a fairy tales fraud
Has God made man or man made God?There is no GodConfused, thy talk in parables
Accused, thou walk in parallels
A simple game of Simon says
This month's flavor sciencesToday's fact, tomorrow's fiction
Leave the rest to superstition
If knowledge comes from learning books
Wisdom comes from discerning looksA fool that says there is no God
Don't feel for that sorry sod
Who needs proof then he'll believe
I wonder if he's been deceivedThere is no God
