At Arm's Length

Feeling Left Out

You've met your match
He sounds like a superhero
He's just like you, just like you Everything you are looking for
He loves your every move
Sleep next to him...
While I sleep aloneI'm just asking for honesty now
I need a reason to keep you away
A reason to keep you at arm's length
I never should have let you back inAnd now it's 3:17
As my alarm clock seems to readThis hate has nothing to do with you
I hate myself
For letting it get this far, once again
I could have prevented this harm
But living in sin
Keeps us warm....
Keeps me warmSimilar situation happened last year
Should have been fair warning to keep you at arm's length
Keep you at arm's lengthThanks to nathan (purepunk@msn.com) for these lyrics

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/