

Exit Strategy (I Can Remember)

Overbreaker

You're over the line, it's time for you to figure out You've been here before, and you can't live a day without... believing the lies, and nothing can change your mind,
so open your eyes,
and see what you've left behind,
and what you've taken...I can remember, the voices in my head
I can remember, everything they said (I can't forget this love...)I gave you a choice, a second chance to come around but you silenced my voice, and took away the bitter sound, you watch as it dies, and nothing can change your mind,
so open your eyes,
and see what you've left behind,
and what you've taken..We cannot be silent, or we are undone We stand here divided, but we could be one So come back from the shadows, Come back to the light and sound...
