Mr. Loh

Boy Hits Car

As I can see the ocean breaking

The ocean breaks on her self

It will remind me that all the shit I'm feeling

Will soon be, will be alright, it's gonna be alrightMr. Loh, he finds the water

And it seems to wash this place off

As the dolphins jump and playHe speaks to us in the sand

Do you know the meaning of life

Or are you just a simple man?

And then he swims away

Then he swims awayMr. Loh, will you speak to me?

You're the only one I understand

Mr. Loh, will you sing to me?

You're the only one who makes senseMr. Loh's not afraid to be naked

But some men fall from grace

They're not secure with themselvesHe doesn't measure people

By things we consider important

Can't seem to comprehend today

So he swims away, he swims away

Come backMr. Loh, will you speak to me?

You're the only one I understand

Mr. Loh, will you sing to me?

You're the only one who makes senseContact with nature, now that's very important

All in society is so busy, busy, busy, busy

Not much time

Talk to yourself or talk to the natureAs long as I can see the ocean break on her self

As the dolphins jump and play

It will remind me, that all the shit I'm feeling

Will soon be alrightMr. Loh, will you speak to me?

You're the only one I understand

Mr. Loh, will you sing to me?

You're the only one who makes senseOh Mr. Loh, oh Mr. Loh

This is gonna be alright
