

New Year of Grace (feat. Marissa Nadler)

Ben Watt

Years roll by, some fast and some go slow
Versions of us come and go
I see myself, I see a lived-in face
If one that's in search of grace
A new year of grace All this valley is my gaping heart
Thunder splits the sky apart
I think our love should live in this space
Precious momentary grace
A new year of grace
Oh, my love, it's easy to forget
All of the love we have known
Oh, my love, now please do not forget
All of the years we have known You tell me secrets that I never knew
And it pulls me close to you
Love hides itself in the weirdest place
Emerging with grace
A new year of grace Oh, my love, it's easy to forget
All of the love we have known
Oh, my love, now please do not forget
All of the years we have known
The distant mountains are covered with snow
You're still the one I think I know
Love hides itself in the weirdest place
Emerging with grace
With steps to retrace
In a new year of grace
A new year of grace
