

Seeing Stars

Meg Hutchinson

Bugs out on the water, make it look like rain
Leaves on every tree, once again turning
Summer's past but it's never far
If you look real close you might see scars
But me, yeah me I'm only seeing stars

Evening light, on a gravel path
I could be scared but I've had enough of that
Oh, big old moon, rising up
Even in this light you might see scars
But me, yeah me I'm only seeing stars

When they take everything
And you've got nothing left
A deer in the headlights in your hospital bed
Just dreaming of a simple life
A gentle man, a solid night
Me and the dog, down at the reservoir
If you look real close you might see scars
But me, yeah me I'm only seeing stars
Oh?

Seems all your songs are about leaving
Seems both your hands are about now
Geese up in the sky, home through the dark
If you look real close you might see scars
But me, yeah me I'm only seeing stars
