Burn On

Greylag

I'm not here to try and change you
As if I know something better or more grand
All the time I spent trying
I was putting too much power in my hands
And I'm not sure which way is right anymore
And I'm certain that my knowin' is dulled
But in the quiet hour I hear you callCome back to the table
Come back into sight
So we can chase the shadows
And ease each others mind
Any darkness that befalls us
We'll shoulder with our light
Our collective vilifiers
Let it burn on,
Let it burn on through the nightWho am I here brother but a member of your home?
A cell within the body, a sheep within the fold
And what have I to give you but my present beatin' heart?
But once I saw how different, I now see how similar we areCome back to the table
Come back into sight
So we can chase the shadows
And ease each others mind
Any darkness that befalls us
We'll shoulder with our light
Our collective vilifiers
Let it burn on,
Let it burn on through the night
