

Savanna

Hundred Reasons

How you plan to stop the world I don't know the plans you screened

The brain will march away

Clipping against the wall

Lower the tone again

Youth was on your side

Pretend you were born again

Youth forgot the time

Clutching at the straws you took

The shortest one you pulled

The reconcile was tantamount

The blocked pores would never close

Lower the tone again youth forgot the time

Get on your knees for saviours [x4]

It's about time you embraced the cold

Hurtful hatful I'm coming for you today
