Changing Tide

Leyla McCalla

Changing tide - river rise, the water's high
Leave it all behind, Let it flow byThe flood cant wash away these roots, they grow for you
Fear won't blind me from the truth I can't see throughRising wave - levy breaks, submerged again
Too deep to forsake, what we beganMy heart it sinks reflecting on your muddy banks
Overwhelmed accepting how much work it takesThe river will flow release these waters to the sea
Time will tell and wash that river over meChanging tide river rise, the waters high
Leave it all behind, let it flow byMy heart it sinks reflecting on your muddy banks
Overwhelmed accepting how much work it takes
The river will flow, release these waters to the sea
Time will tell, and wash your river over me
