Crash And Burn

Bif Naked

You sink to my level, just like a stone
on your way back to the ground.
You wonder what happened to make me different.
I'm impatient when you are around.
You're alone.
But you get what you deserve.
Now, we are alone.
But we get what we deserve.
If I am alive for the first time.
I must have died inside
so I could let go
of things that weren't mine.
I'm crashing and burning.
You're crashing and burning.
We're crashing and burning.
If only you listened to words I say,
and hear them for what they are.

I'm hopeful and foolish,
but you never change.
And, that's something I know in my heart.
You're a "star."
But nothing about you shines.
I am a star.
And we get what we deserve.
If I am alive for the first time.
I must have died inside
so I could let go
of things that weren't mine.
I'm crashing and burning.
You're crashing and burning.
We're crashing and burning.
You and me will never learn!
Cause we get what we deserve!
Baby, we were meant to burn!
