

Red Light

David Nail

Verse 1

so this is how it ends this is where it all goes down this is what I don't love you feels like It ain't the middle of the night and it ain't even raining outside It ain't exactly what i had in mind.

For goodbyeChorus 1 at a red light in the sunshine on a Sunday nothing to say don't even try some are coming home some are leaving town

while my worlds crashing down on a Sunday in the sunshine at a red light

Verse 2

I thought she was going to say something about that couple kissing crossing the street or something about this beautiful day but she just looked me in the eye said its over didn't try to lie or pick a fight

I might have seen it coming that wayChorus 1 AgainBridge theres a mama calming down a little baby in the backseat in front of me theres an old man dressed in his Sunday best just waiting on green but i cant see getting pastChorus 2 this red light in the sunshine

on a Sunday nothing to say
don't even try some are coming home
some are leaving town
while my worlds crashing down
on a Sunday in the sunshine at a red light

Repeat Chorus 1 Twice

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>