

Young & Realistic

The Faint

Hey hey hey hey hey hey hey hey Your knows will know I was familiar
Bulgarian choirs in your head
The clouds were black but not forever
You'll wake up better like I said Remember how it was when we first met
It was impossible to know what you were thinking
Every other girl, afraid of the world
Second-guessing every movement that they're making
You're not the type to go looking for flaws
You don't have to skewer somebodies passion
Combatitive cats can fight cats
While you're in a deep conversation If this is love
It's enough
If this is love
(guess it's over now)
It's enough Turn down the voice making words in your skull
Is it judging anything but danger?
I passed the test even though I suppose
Black metal was our first conversation Going home but not safe at all
As you're throwing a phone out the window
Hold my calls, and you don't move to talk
Do you know if this room's under a rhythm?
Young and Realistic til you gave that up
You know time's are recomendend but they don't keep up?
When life is in the can
It's work and it's hellish
Weeds on the glass get free rides to heaven
But not in this light
If this is love
(guess it's over now)
It's enough
If this is love
(guess it's over now)
It's enough
