Leo Sayer

Used to see him hanging around everywhere
In a world of his own
See him hanging around street corners where
We would meet, he was a lonely kidNow they tell us now he's moved on Ain't been seen for so long
Don't know where he's goneIt's been so long but I'm on the road
And though it ain't been easy
At least I made it on my ownOh, my tongue's been tied for far too long
And now you're gonna hear me
At least I know where I belongS.O.L.O. I'm on the road
Hello, hello, I'm on my ownYou see everybody's got someone
To lay their troubled lives upon
I'm really glad I've only got my ownOnce upon a time, well, I had lots of friends
I moved freely through their lives
But twos a couple and, well, threes a crowdI was just left out hanging around
I've had as much now as I can take
There ain't no need to stayS.O.L.O., I'm on the road
Hello, hello, I'm all alone[Incomprehensible] everybody smiles
As I go walking by
But I'm really glad I've only got my ownS.O.L.O., I'm all alone
S.O.L.O., I'm going down the road
S.O.L.O., I'm all aloneS.O.L.O., hello, hello
I'm going down the road
S.O.L.O., ooh, I'm on my own
S.O.L.O., I'm all aloneS.O.L.O., S.O.L.O., oh
I'm on the road
Going down the road, ooh
S.O.L.O., I'm all alone
