

Oh, Why

Balam Acab

I miss you where are you hiding miss you your soul's not lighting up now I miss you and the hope once shining through you did someone hurt you you give in to bribery did fear wrap around you did power strong arm
I would forgive you

If you would be the change again then I could support you If freedom rang aloud again you're missing
I'm afraid to fly where nothing's sacred afraid to trust this house of bankers made a lie of justice is she blind.
