

Darkest Deception

Born from Pain

The weight of darkness falls short of consideration

Of the lives of millions that have bled

A structure built on sand

This hammer crushes all

All that's reason

All belief in the goodness of this life Why longer live these lies

Why fall to our knees and die This culture rotten to the core

2000 years in the shadow of death Conditioned billions

Embracing death

As the greater good

Erasing life in the blink of an eye

Standards fade

Civilised decline

Must we bleed

For the sake of... bloodred skies
