Splinter

Skillet

Here I lie again inside this broken body Wrestle against the tree, my muscles aching To get up now is death, to die is to really live My flesh is restless, twisting, spasms in my back increasing Splinter me, splinter me My heart, my head Splinter me Here I think again to try to solve this puzzle What is not yours I don't want, my mind aching To reconstruct my thoughts or let it blow away You are all-knowing, changing, yeah you're killing me Splinter me, splinter me My heart, my head Splinter me Jesus whispered softly, Jesus shouted it out His Kingdom body coming But we nail him up and hate each other Splinter me, splinter me My broken body Splinter me Splinter me, splinter me My broken body Splinter me
