

Christmas You And Me

Brian Mcknight

It's seven o'clock and I'm on my way
Eating the miles down this highway
Say that you'll wait for me
To light up the Christmas tree Tell you the first thing that I'ma do
Holding and squeezing, and kissing you
Under the mistletoe
Girl, I've been missing you so This is the first holiday we'll spend
Every night I pray that it never ends
Feels like meant to be
When I have you next to me Can't wait to have you to myself
'Cause I need you and no one else
There's no place in this world I'd rather be
'Cause you're the only present that I need The perfect combination is Christmas, you and me
The perfect combination is Christmas, you and me It's 11 o'clock and I'm almost home
I'm just calling to let you know
Leave on the light for me
Soon we'll make us some [Incomprehensible] And I saw Santa is on his way
I saw Rudolph pulling the sleigh
Donner and Blitzen too
And he's got some presents for you This is the first holiday we'll spend
Every night I pray that it never ends
Feels like meant to be
When I have you next to me Can't wait to have you to myself
'Cause I need you and no one else
There's no place in this world I'd rather be
'Cause you're the only present that I need The perfect combination is Christmas, you and me
The perfect combination is Christmas, you I hear sleigh bells ringing and carolers singing
And smothered turkey's that grandma's bringing
I see children playing in the snow
It's Christmas time and I know well
That when I see you I just might melt
If you don't know by now you need to know That I can't wait to have you to myself
'Cause I need you and no one else
There's no place in this world I'd rather be, be
See, you're the only present that I need The perfect combination is Christmas, you and me
Oh, the perfect combination is Christmas, you and me
The perfect combination is Christmas, you and me
Is Christmas, you and me
